

Council Plans Government Revisions

47 Delinquents Hold Up Forms

• THE OFFICE OF Student Activities announces that 47 University organizations will be put on probation if they do not submit their membership forms by 5 p.m. Friday, October 25.

The original deadline for submitting these forms was last Friday. Any organization that fails to meet the extended deadline will be placed on automatic probation for the remainder of the semester by the Student Life committee.

Forms were mailed to all student organizations several weeks ago. Additional blanks are available in the activities office in the Student Union annex.

Groups whose forms have not been received by the office are Alpha Omega Alpha, Alpha Pi Epsilon, Amicus Curiae, Arnold Air Society and Baptist Student Union.

Also, Case Club, Christian Science organization, Current Events club, Dance Production groups, Delta Phi Epsilon, Delta Sigma Rho, Delta Tau Delta and Epsilonian Debating society.

Also Fencing club, Future Teachers of America, George Washington Law Review, German club, Glee club, Home Economics club, Inter-Fraternity Council, Inter-Law Fraternity Council and Interscholastic Athletic board.

Also, Kane-King society, Kappa Beta Pi, Kappa Sigma, Nu Sigma Nu, Order of the Coif, Percolator, Pharmacy Council, Phi Alpha Delta, Phi Delta Phi, Phi Epsilon Phi, Phi Gamma Mu and Psi Chi.

Also, Rho Chi, Rowing club, Sailing association, Sigma Kappa, Sigma Xi Sigma, Sigma Xi, Smith-Reed Russell society, Student Bar association, Student Branch, American Pharmaceutical association, Student Legal Aid society, Tassels and Westminster Foundation.

Troubadours Give Concert

• A PROGRAM COMBINING show tunes, folk songs and religious music will be presented by the Travelling Troubadours in their fall concert on Friday, October 25, at 8:30 p.m. in Lisner auditorium.

Among the groups performing will be a men's pop quartet, a men's barbershop quartet, a girls' barbershop quartet and a girls' trio. Soloists include Bill Dotson, Chuck Johnson, Bob Tolson, Joann Tolson and Pat Randall.

The Troubadours, under the direction of Dr. Robert H. Harmon, associate University physician, will sing a medley of tunes from "My Fair Lady" and some standard songs, as well as several selections they have not done before in public.

Accompanist for the group is Mrs. Robert H. Harmon. Ginny Botek is her assistant. Members of the Troubadour board are John Parker and Harry Gleason, assistant directors; Al Justice, manager, and Ruth Reagan, secretary.

The Troubadours not only entertain in the Washington area, but are one of two college groups who entertain overseas. They have performed at the air force bases in Greenland, Newfoundland, Labrador, Baffin Island and Canada.

There is no admission charge to the concert, which is a part of the Student Council-sponsored Colonial Program series.

• Pictured are the members of the Student Council committee who are considering a revision of the present system of student government. Seated from left to right are Ed Rutsch, vice-president; Bob Shuken, advocate, and Al Rode, president.

353 Graduates Get Degrees Saturday

• THREE HUNDRED FIFTY-three students received degrees at the University's fall convocation, held October 19, at Lisner auditorium.

University President, Cloyd H. Marvin, conferred the degrees and delivered the charge to the graduates. Leading the academic procession was Dr. John F. Latimer. The invocation and benediction were delivered by the Reverend Albert Wesley Hurst of Cleveland Park Congregational church.

Suzanne Virginia Richards was the only student from a group of ten law students to receive the degree of Juris Doctor with distinction. Others awarded degrees with distinction were Marcia Barrett, Marion Green, Richard A. Rubin, Associate in Arts; David L. Luebke and Nicholas S. Nunzio, Bachelor of Arts in government, and Dean K. Good and Edward G. Kar, Bachelor of Arts.

Doctor of Philosophy degrees were conferred upon Virginia L. Blackford, Janet W. Hartley, Ariel C. Hollinshead, Charles A. Tompkins, and Andrew J. Vargosko.

In addition, Dr. Merrill J. Shepprow, a dentist at Walter Reed Army Hospital, received his Master of Education in absentia. Phyl-

Committee Work

• CLAIRE CHENNAULT AND Tim Mead, newly chosen Holiday Season committee co-chairmen, and Carl Scribner and Bill Player, Student Council selections for Liaison committee co-chairmen, announce that any students interested in working on their committees should contact them immediately.

lis Buxbaum received her Master of Arts in education. She also holds the Bachelor of Laws degree and has been teaching elementary school.

Additional recipients are Mrs. Insook Kyu Su Chung, wife of the naval attache of the Korean embassy, Dimitrios Argyropoulos, son of Major General Argyropoulos of the Greek Army, and Allen Commander, holder of a Scottish Rite Fellowship. Mr. Commander received his Master of Arts in Public Administration.

President Marvin urged the graduates not to be discouraged in these days when folkways are changing and political structures are being reinterpreted.

"The inventive mind," he added, "stimulated by necessity, becomes creative, and new and stronger patterns are evolved."

Marine Corps Presents Show

• THE U. S. MARINE Drum and Bugle Corps will be a highlight of the half-time entertainment for the Homecoming football game, November 1.

According to Tom White, Homecoming half-time chairman, the corps was asked to perform after the enthusiastic response given by students to the Air Force Drum and Bugle corps at the University-Air Force Academy game, two weeks ago.

One hundred students from Bethesda-Chevy Chase high school band will also perform. In addition to band entertainment, the five Homecoming Queen finalists will appear between halves of the game.

On November 1, Claude Thornhill and his band will fly to Washington from Ottawa, Canada, where the band is currently performing. For the Homecoming ball, the National Guard armory will be decorated with alternating pink and blue lights. This is the first time, according to the Homecoming committee, that this theme has been used.

Guests of Honor

Varsity and junior varsity football squads and the deans of all the schools will be the guests of honor at the dance.

On October 15, the tryouts for the Homecoming Musical resulted in the largest student response this year, according to the Homecoming committee. Over 50 students tried out for ten speaking roles. The lead parts were given to Vince Mortarano, Paul Garner and Sue Steinberg.

Achievement Awards

Achievement cups will be awarded by the General Alumni association to campus organizations that sell the most advance-sale tickets to their alumni. The achievement cups will be awarded for first and second places. All social, religious or professional campus organizations are eligible to compete for the prizes. Tickets for alumni are selling at a reduced rate of $4.00 per couple.

SC Cautious Change Sees On Articles Two Houses

by Betsy Evans

• MOST OF THE Council members agreed that the Student Council as a whole has adopted a cautious outlook toward the new proposed Articles of Student Government.

The new program will not be acted upon hurriedly, they felt, but will be carefully considered in future meetings before any definite steps are taken to implement it.

The purpose of the proposed amendments, said Al Rode, Student Council president, is to "expand the base of the student government." The increasing enrollment of full-time students at the University means more "activity-minded students," he said. The Student Council is now in a period of transition: it is legislating for the future, as well as for the present, he pointed out.

"But the most important thing about this new plan," Mr. Rode continued, "is that it not be pushed too quickly. . . . It's not a final thing yet. We hope we'll be able to iron out the flaws."

Mr. Bob Shuken, Student Council advocate, also stressed that the proposals should be considered carefully before they are presented in final form to the student body for approval.

Support of Plan

In support of the plan, he pointed out that the new system would increase student representation and might result in the formulation of many new ideas about the activities program at the University. It would not add to the power of the present Student Council, but would create a new body "to do some of the things the Council doesn't have time to do now," he said.

As advocate, Mr. Shuken supervises all student elections. Because fewer student government positions would be elected directly by the student body, voters would have a greater opportunity to study the qualifications of candidates, and the result would be "fairer, less chaotic elections," he said.

Increases Participation

Meredith Eagon, Student Council publicity director, agreed with Mr. Rode and Mr. Shuken that the new system would increase the percentage of students participating in student government, but she differed with Mr. Shuken on the election question. "It is unfortunate that so few members of the Senate would be picked by all-University election," she said.

Student Representatives

Elva Schroebel, Council freshman director, also saw merits in the proposed plan, but she questioned the advisability of the representation system in the Student House. The House members, she pointed out, might tend to remain representatives of their own organizations, and not of the University at large. "Those who have power over student government . . . should be representatives of the students, and not of groups," Miss Schroebel said.

Four other Student Council members questioned said that they had not taken a stand for or against the proposed plan. One of them pointed out, however, that allied organizations in the Student House might tend to vote in blocs.

Voting Tradition

Another comment that traditionally, the Council president, vice-president, comptroller, advocate and member or members-at-large (See S. C. MEMBERS, Page 2)

• A PROPOSED REVISION OF the Articles of Student Government which, if adopted, would revamp the University's entire Student Council system, was submitted to the entire Council at last Wednesday's meeting.

The revisions were the report of a committee consisting of Al Rode, president; Bob Shuken, advocate, and Ed Rutsch, vice-president.

The proposals would replace the present Student Council with a two-house Student Congress, patterned much like the legislative branch of the federal government.

In order to be adopted, the new system must receive the approval of the Council, the Student Life committee, a majority of the student body, the President of the University and the board of trustees.

The present Student Council consists of a president, vice-president, secretary, comptroller, advocate, activities director, program director, publicity director, freshman director, Student Union chairman and member-at-large, all elected by the entire student body, and a representative from each school and college in the University, elected by the students he specifically represents.

The new student government plan would create a two-branch legislative body in place of the present Student Council.

One branch, the Student House of Representatives, would be composed of an elected delegate from every recognized student organization on campus, with the exception of social fraternities and sororities, who would be represented by delegates from the Panhellenic and Inter-Fraternity Councils.

The other student government branch, the Student Senate, would be composed of a president, vice president, secretary, comptroller, advocate and three members-at-large, all elected by the entire student body; representatives from the Schools of Law and Medicine, elected by the students they specifically represent; and a publicity director, freshman director, activities director, program director and Student Union chairman, all five selected by a two-thirds majority vote of the Student House.

The vice president of the Senate would serve as chairman of the House. He would not have voting power in the Senate, but would act as a liaison between the two bodies.

The five members of the Senate elected by the House would petition for their offices. They would have full voting power in the Senate.

The House would have power to initiate legislation regulating and coordinating all student activities except intercollegiate and intramural athletics, which are controlled by University administrators. It would also recommend to the Senate the appointment of chairmen of Student Congress standing committees, such as Homecoming, Winter Weekend and Career Conference.

However, all decisions and rec-large are men, and that, until that tradition was broken, the only position in the Student Senate filled by vote of the entire student body and yet completely open to a woman would be that of secretary.

Dr. Don C. Faith, director of men's activities, declined to comment on the proposals. "I won't be quoted in advance of the Student Council," he said. "After the Council has acted, I'll be glad to state my stand."

Miss Virginia Kirkbride, director of women's activities, also had no comment on the program at the present time. She has contacted other universities where such a student government system is in operation, she said, and she will withhold stating any position in the issue until she has received reports from these schools.

Petitions Open for Co-Chairmanships

PETITIONS WILL BE open for Career Conference and Winter Weekend co-chairmanships through Friday, October 25.

Career Conference is an annual event designed to acquaint students in the University with career possibilities. A keynote speaker from political life in Washington is featured at the program. In the past such men as Vice-President Alben Barkley and Senator Hubert Humphrey have appeared.

Leading men from various professions in the Washington area are asked to speak on their fields in the forum section of the Conference program. The co-chairmen's job is to co-ordinate these activities. Al Rode, president of the Student Council, said, "Co-chairmanship of the Career Conference is one of the most difficult, but rewarding jobs in the University."

Winter Weekend, scheduled for February 14 and 15, is one of Colonial Program series activities presented in the spring semester.

Petitions may be filed in the activities office in the Student Union annex through Oct. 25.

Grant Offers Close Oct. 31

APPLICATIONS FOR NEXT year's Marshall Scholarship awards should be filed with Dean B. H. Jarmon, chairman of the Scholarship Committee, by October 31.

Twelve two-year scholarships for study at a British university are awarded each year to American students. Graduates of any American university may apply.

Applicants must be under 28 as of October 1, 1958. Candidates may be of either sex, married or single. Successful candidates are chosen for their character as well as scholastic achievement.

In addition to winning a $1,540 a year scholarship, each recipient is provided with free passage to and from the United Kingdom. Married men receive an additional allowance.

Applications are considered first by four regional committees, the eastern, southern, middle western and Pacific. From the applications each committee selects six candidates whose names are then forwarded to the British Embassy in Washington.

Adviser Council

A seven-year advisor council, headed by the British Ambassador, selects the final twelve candidates, three from each region. These names are sent to the United Kingdom for review and approval by a commission of prominent British educators and businessmen who administer the Trust.

Began in 1953

The Marshall Scholarship awards were started in 1953 as a token of Britain's thanks for Marshall Aid. So far, 48 Americans have benefited from this program.

Band Support

• THE SPIRIT AND cheers from the home-side of the stadium at last Friday's game were noticeably increased by the enthusiasm of the newly re-organized pep band playing for the first time.

The band has been organized within the last few weeks by a few interested students who were members of the band that was dissolved last spring. The Colonial Boosters and Inter-Fraternity Council have given the band their support.

Last April the officers of the recognized University band submitted a report to the Student Council announcing the disbanding of that organization. The primary reason for the failure of that band, the report stated, was the lack of interest in a University pep band by both the student body and the administration. Lack of adequate facilities for practice and for storing equipment, lack of transportation facilities to home games and the lack of an adequate budget for appropriate uniforms, music, instruments and paying a director are difficulties which may point to the administration's disinterest in the pep band.

However, the administration can hardly be expected to support any organization unless the student body will wholeheartedly support that group. "In over a hundred performances there was never a single one which did not bring forth comments from the crowd about the Salvation Army," last April's report states, concerning the band's appearance in the only uniforms available. Ridiculing the honest efforts of interested students to form a pep band is hardly an indication of whole-hearted student body support. The respect and encouragement of the student body for the band and its members will be a valuable asset in seeking the administration's aid. Continuing interest and support of the kind shown at last Friday's game will eliminate one of the new band's major problems.

Troubadour Concert

• THIS FRIDAY EVENING the University's Traveling Troubadours will present a concert at Lisner auditorium. The performance will be one of the few that University students will have a chance to see, for the Troubadours do most of their entertaining for members of the armed forces at home and abroad, and other non-University groups.

Since their organization, in 1950, the Troubadours have traveled on concert tours throughout the world. They have established an excellent reputation and are always in demand.

The University is indeed fortunate to have such a widely-known and popular group of singers. We hope that all of you will take advantage of the opportunity Friday evening to see your Traveling Troubadours perform.

Boosters Plan on Bus For Annapolis Game

by Pat Brett

• ALL ABOARD! What for, you may ask. Why, the bus cavalcade to Annapolis, of course.

This is just one of the many activities planned by the Booster board, a very active body of ten members. They sponsor the pep rallies, cavalcades and house decoration contests, through the year. Booster books are on the Combo, too. Points are awarded to each fraternity and sorority for their participation and qualification in these events, and at the end of the year the organization with the greatest number of points wins the coveted Booster cup.

About the trip to Annapolis, Spyridon Aspiotis, known as Spero, head of Booster transportation said, "Special rates will be given to fraternities and bus tickets will be sold in the Student Union a week before the gala trip. This will eliminate all parking problems."

Nancy Jo Niesen, whose job is to get all materials for school spirit from noisemakers to George and Martha, also voiced her enthusiasm. "I wouldn't miss this cavalcade for the world. It's the first time we've tried this in a long time, and I'm sure it will be a great success."

When asked the purpose of an organization like the Booster board, Marilyn Hogenson, membership chairman answered, "We try to produce school spirit in every way possible. I think by encouraging students to participate in school activities they will get much more out of their four years here."

Cheerleader Inez Tonelli, who is appropriately pep rally chairman, added information about the Booster sponsored part of the Homecoming pep rally which will feature roll call and the appearance of George and Martha. Say, just who are George and Martha, Inez?

Bunny Miller, chairman of the board, also added a note of enthusiasm for the Booster activities and said that the board was very pleased with the success of the recent cavalcades to home games.

Hand in hand, all ten members seem to do an outstanding job of encouraging school spirit.

Letter to The Editors

TO THE EDITORS:

Should G. W. have a band? Many of us have been asking ourselves this question since the beginning of school. The University appears to provide many extra-curricular activities for its students, and yet something seems to be missing. It is an All-University band. Almost all large universities and numerous small colleges have bands. However, we seem to be lacking in this very important activity. Why should we be any different from these other schools?

Why has there been such a poor showing at the school pep rallies this year? What happened to the school spirit at G. W.? Could it be that the students are becoming tired of supporting their teams? Are they too busy to attend the athletic events? These questions could hardly be answered in the affirmative. One main reason for the lack of student support is the lack of good pep rallies. This prompts one to ask, "How will a band help this situation?" One of the most effective and most proven ways of stimulating school spirit is the presence of a school band at a pep rally. Nothing is more stirring than hearing a school band play school songs.

If this is true, why don't we have a band? At the present time, several interested students are trying to reorganize the band. We need the help of the administration, the Student Council, the HATCHET, the Boosters and all interested musicians.

Give us your support!

Respectfully,

/s/ Dick Wills

Goat Show Presents "American Wonders"

• TOWERING SKYSCRAPERS or cowboys and Indians may compete for top honors as American wonders in the 1957 "Goat Show."

This annual event, under the sponsorship of Junior Panhellenic, provides an opportunity for each sorority pledge class to create and present an original eight minute skit.

The central theme this year, "American Wonders," must be the basis for each of the skits. No mention may be made of the University in any script, according to Junior Panhellenic rules, established for the competition. In addition, no group may spend more than $10 for props or other "Goat Show" materials.

Each sorority is required to turn in a copy of its completed script to the Office of Women's Activities by Friday, October 25. The skits are judged by three faculty members to be selected by Junior Panhellenic. Cups are awarded to first, second and third place winners.

Radio and T.V. Director Sparks G.W. Publicity

by Elva Schroeber

• MRS. LILLIAN BROWN, Director of Radio and Television at the University, is a very busy woman.

Taking up her job with the Public Relations office in September of this year, Mrs. Brown sums up her office's goal as being to "put 1,200 professors and 14,000 students on television and radio as often as possible." Some of the varied activities this takes her into can be seen from a once over lightly review of a typical week. Last week Mrs. Brown arranged to get Eddie Gallagher to be a judge for the Homecoming Queen contest, saw to it that G. W. students would appear on "Quiz Club" to talk about Homecoming, arranged for Dr. Brigulio to appear on the "Celebrity Parade," a student to be on "Youth Wants to Know," had many staff meetings in the University, a script conference with Dean Jarman for the "Twenty-fifth Semester," went out to CBS to make a kinescope, made arrangements for the broadcasting of University symposiums and gave a speech to the Women's Advertising club of Washington.

Coming up soon is a trip to Cleveland to make a speech for a Kiwanis group and next spring will see Mrs. Brown junketing out to California for more speech making.

Busy Sundays

Her official office hours are Monday through Friday, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., but hers is a bit more than an eight hour type of job. Saturdays are often taken up in script planning. A typical Sunday sees her on hand at 9:30 a.m. at WMAL for the "College Press Conference" to coach G. W. students who are appearing on it; then by 10:30 a.m. she's over at NBC for "The Other Two Billion" and by 1:30 p.m. she's present to help with "The Twenty-fifth Semester," a television series being put on by the six local universities. Then she might go home, but it's more likely that she'll drop in on some other program being filmed.

With all these jobs to keep her busy, Mrs. Brown still maintains membership in the American Women in Radio and Television, American Association for the United Nations and many other clubs.

Education Major

Originally from Huntsville, Ohio, Mrs. Brown got her BA in elementary education from Bowling Green State University and went on to do graduate work in education at Ohio State University. Her television experience has covered a range of historical series and a series of taped-interviews with famous people which is still being released.

Home is now "a lovely modern house that we've just finished building. All the walls are glass, the fixtures very imaginative and we overlook the Arlington tree line." Married to Col. George F. Brown, USAF, Mrs. Brown has three young girls, Carla, a 13-

Asked the big question of how she manages both home and television work, Mrs. Brown smilingly answers, "I have excellent health and a great motivation. I believe in educational TV very much, and I deplore the television that my own youngsters watch. I really feel that television can be interesting, and informational at the same time."

"And then, too," she adds, "I've just always done something better." (See BROWN, Page 5)

• QUEEN ELIZABETH'S VISIT to our city has been of interest to all in the past few days so, I thought I would ask this question of the girls. Would you like to be the Queen?

Mary Anne Anderson—"Yes, if Prince Philip would walk with me."

Janet Martin—"Yes, so I could make my boyfriend walk behind me and always have him at my beck and call."

Gail Young—"No, because she is just a figurehead and has no life of her own."

Miriam Wondrack—"No, because her husband is always in the background and I want mine to be important."

Lynn Briam—"Yes, but only for a few weeks in order to enjoy all the luxuries, but definitely not as a full time job."

Elaine Bissell—"No, because I have too much fun being me."

Cissy Anderson—"No, I wouldn't be able to do anything without the whole world knowing about it."

Carolyn Tucker—"No, because she has too many restrictions and can't have any fun. Besides, I don't like tea and crumpets."

Jean Creech—"No, because her life is too public and she never has much privacy."

Sue Thayer—"No, I like being a peasant."

Marjorie Wilbes—"Yes, because I think Prince Philip is pretty nice."

Elaine Cohen—"No, because I wouldn't be able to ride on the bus with Billy Frank."

Alex Scott—"Yes, because I would like everyone to come and welcome me when I go somewhere."

Barbara Reedy—"Yes, because I would like to wear all her jewels."

Kitty Gruen—"Yes, I would love to live in a palace and have servants to wait on me."

Sandy Ford—"Yes, to represent anything as long-lasting as the British Commonwealth would be a great honor."

Edie Revetta—"Yes, I wouldn't mind sitting between Eisenhower and Philip."

'The Queen and I' Has Sad Ending

by Mary Alice MacDonald
• DEAR MOM,

I've just read your letter again asking me, why, since I've been on the HATCHET a month, they haven't made me editor. Yes, Dear heart, I've told them I was the editor of the Spray City High School weekly for three years, but it seems others have been editors, too.

Anyway, what with classes and all, it's getting so a girl can hardly write a story any more. Let me explain one of the things I mean by "all."

You know our news deadline is 12 noon on Fridays. Well, it's getting so a poor little reporter can't make a deadline. For instance, this is what happened to me last Friday.

At 5:00, the telephone rings. It is "Miss Woodner" from the British Embassy. I can tell she is English, because she speaks with an accent. She tells me that Her Majesty has suffered a change in plans and will attend the G. W. football contest (Friday night). I ask her to wait, try to find another HATCHET member, but none is around. I then asked where the Queen would sit, she told me to call the Public Relations office, British Embassy, in one hour.

Well, this sounded kind of funny-peculiar so I called the STAR downtown (Miss Woodner said she informed them, too) and they thought the idea was pretty funny ha, ha, because Her Majesty was attending a Dominion Ball that night. Then I called our Athletic Department, and they laughed like mad. It was just not true.

Just as I hung up the phone it rang again. A man with a real sweet little Washington accent said, "This is Bob Stark of the Post. Is there any truth in the rumor that the Queen is attending the G. W.-West Virginia game tonight?"

I say, "Haw, Haw, Haw, is this really Bob Stark?" "Yes," he affirmed. Well, he asked me what I'd done to prove the story was a hoax, if that's what I thought. I told him, and he hung up, after I told him he could check for himself by calling the British Embassy in one hour.

At 6:30, I'm still trying to find a way that is proper grammar to tell the News Editor that there were no stories on my beat this week.

At any rate, mom, maybe something will happen that is really big news, and the paper may promote me. Your loving daughter, Elmira.

by Hester Heale

• THE QUEEN! THE QUEEN! This seems to be the topic of conversation for all social minded Americans this week. In fact, the Queen almost kept Hester from making her appointment with this desk. Of course, our social calendar this week will not be as sparkling as that of diplomatic Washington, but it will run a close second. Though, we weren't included in the official festivities, Bunny Miller was presented to Elizabeth II at the embassy garden party Friday night. You'll have to get the inside story from Bunny as Hester didn't make it to the gala affair.

In spite of the West Virginia drubbing, the Sigma Chi house was loud and alive last Friday as everyone was drowning his sorrows. The packed quarters made this appear to be the largest post-game party the Sig house has ever seen. Among the fun makers were: Bob Jewett and ZTA Patti Fisher, Shorty Varley and Kappa Bev Falk, Boots "convertible kid" Busky and DG Beth Oliver, Tom Varley and Kappa Marby Adams, J. P. "Al Capone" Donley and Kappa Gwen Gregor, and Bud

Carroll with date DG Melinda Young. You think that's all but you're wrong — Dave Bernheisel and ZTA Carol Tulley, and Larry Carone and Kappa Liz Silliphant were also on hand. Anne Mitchell added a special treat when she sang to the crowd while Bob Bloch accompanied her on the ivories.

Sigma Chi takes pride in announcing two pinnings: Don Herman to Barbara Fohl of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, and Tom Varley to Kappa Marby Adams on September 7 at G. W. Hospital (Tom's all well now).

The SAE house was the scene of another after the game "get-together". Music and dancing kept everyone in the spirit of things upstairs, while downstairs that wicked game "Indian signs" was the center of activity (we hear Neil Stull didn't do too well). Everyone seemed to be having great fun including: Eldon Miller and KKG Jean Barnes, Bill Mish and DG Liz McGarry, Warren Barley and ZTA Sue Thayer and Neil Stull and DG Ruthie Cooper. Others enjoying the fast pace were Dan Taylor and KKG Phyllis Charnley (the most collegiately dressed pair of the evening), and John McGarry (a guest from flu vacationing Leigh) with DG Helene Harper. Cheerleaders Morna and Inez added their gay spirits to the group also.

Sigma Nu brothers turned out for the game in full force Friday and returned to the house for a party after the game. Seen toasting to I don't know what were: Jimmy Whitney and Sigma Kappa Nancy Grayson, Bill Gleeson and Ann Phelan, Dwight Jackson and Theta Sandy Clements, pledge Tod Machrowitz and Pi Phi Sue Porter and Dick Monzane and ZTA Carol Miller.

Everyone rested up on Saturday in preparation for an exchange with Pi Phi on Sunday.

On Saturday night the Teps had a wild hobo party. Some of the boys (bums for the evening) seen

CLOTHES MAKE THE BMOC

Last week we passed along some fashion hints for coeds. Today we will do the same for college men.

The most important thing to remember, gentlemen, is to dress with verve, with dash, with inventiveness. Don't be imprisoned by the traditional conservatism of men's clothing. Brighten up your appearance with a single earring, or a cavalry saber, or a gold derby.

Guard Against Gaudiness

However, guard against gaudiness. If, for instance, you are wearing a gold derby, do not also wear a cavalry saber. This is too much. Wear a dagger instead, or, for formal occasions, a bowie knife.

Let us turn now to a persistent rumor that a garment called the "suit" is on the verge of making a comeback. Some of you older students may remember this "suit." It was an ensemble consisting of a jacket and trousers, both of which—this'll kill you—both of which were made out of the same material!

The last "suit" ever seen on an American campus was in 1941—and I ought to know because I was wearing it. I was an undergraduate then, and in love—hopelessly in love with a beautiful statistics major named Harry Sigafoos. (She is one of the two girls I have ever known named Harry. The other one is her sister.)

I loved Harry madly, though her expensive tastes were the ruin of me. Bit by bit I sold off my belongings to pursue this costly courtship—first my books, then my clothes, until finally I was left with nothing to wear but a "suit". One night I came calling for her in this garment and she, of course, slashed me across the face with a riding crop and sent me from her door.

I slunk home and lit a Marlboro and sat down to think. I always light a Marlboro when I sit down to think, for their good mild flavor is a great aid to cerebration. I always light a Marlboro when I don't sit down to think, too, because Marlboro is my favorite cigarette, and I know it will be yours, too, once you make the acquaintance of that filter, that flavor, that flip-top box. As the man says, you get a lot to like with a Marlboro.

Well, sirs, smoking and thinking thus, my eye happened to fall on an ad in a campus newspaper which said: "WIN A COMPLETE WARDROBE! Touhy's Toggery, the campus's leading men's store, announces a contest to pick the best-dressed man on-campus. The winner will receive absolutely free a complete new wardrobe!"

Struck by a sudden inspiration, I took pen in hand and wrote a letter to Mr. Touhy of Touhy's Toggery: "Sir—I see by the paper that you are giving a complete new wardrobe to the best-dressed man on campus. What a ridiculous idea!

"Obviously, to be the best-dressed man on campus, you must first have a lot of clothes, and if you have a lot of clothes, what do you need with another wardrobe?"

"Touhy's Toggery should give a new wardrobe to the worst-dressed man on campus. Me, for instance. I am an eyesore. There isn't a grow in town that will come near me. Three times this month the Salvation Army salvage truck has picked me up. Esquire has canceled my subscription.

"I submit that a vote for me is a vote for reason, a vote for equity, a vote for the American way!"

With a flourish I signed the letter and sent it off, somehow feeling certain that very soon I would be wearing a complete new wardrobe.

And I was right—because two weeks later I was drafted.

Homecoming will be offered in the series. The program is on channel 4 at 9:30 a.m.

If you join APL as an Electronic Engineer . . .

At the Applied Physics Laboratory (APL) of The Johns Hopkins University you will be in the vanguard of the science of guided missiles. APL has been recognized as a leader in this field since 1948, when we completed successful field tests of TERRIER (now in service use).

You will enjoy more freedom to use your initiative and a larger measure of responsibility than is extended recent graduates by most research and development organizations.

You might conduct experiments in every frequency region; engage in transistor research; study frequency modulation; electrical noise and interference phenomena; radar systems; servo-mechanisms theory; or pulse techniques. You might also be called upon to help design and construct electro-mechanical computers or to develop magnetic-amplifier circuits.

You would work on advanced circuitry capable of performing under unusual environmental conditions in complex guided missile systems and be concerned with the mating of functional components into complete systems.

Qualified candidates will be invited to visit our new laboratory in Howard County, Maryland. Those selected will be given the opportunity of choosing their own starting positions. Salaries compare favorably with industrial organizations, and our fringe benefits are excellent due to our affiliation with the University. For detailed information ask your Placement Officer for our new 30-page publication or write: Professional Staff Appointments.

'55 Editor Gets Job At Alumni Relations

• SUE SCOTT STOCKTON, '55, has been named assistant director of Alumni Relations at the University.

As assistant director, Mrs. Stockton will coordinate the social activities of the various alumni groups of the University and will work with the Alumni Association's annual giving program. She succeeds the former assistant director, Mary Dow, who resigned September 1.

Council Plans Parking Poll

• TENTATIVE PLANS FOR a solution for the University's parking problem have been made, stated Bob Lipman, chairman of the Student Council's committee set up to study the problem.

The committee plans to set up a University car pool system through the HATCHET.

A letter has been sent to the Capital Transit Company to inquire where the fringe area parking lots are, what the cost of running a service to the University would be and how many students would be needed to put this service into effect. A poll will then be run through the HATCHET to determine the number of students interested in it. The buses would run from the fringe area parking lots to the University during the rush hours.

At present the University is negotiating with the District Zoning Commission to obtain permission for additional lots in the area. The suggested parking building and additional parking lots are a thing of the future according to the committee, as nothing can be started until permission is granted by the Commission.

Homecoming Football Contest

THE HATCHET, the Homecoming Committee and the Marlboro representative on campus, are sponsoring the following football contest under the management of the HATCHET sports staff.

Any student of the George Washington University is eligible to enter and may submit only 2 entries. All entries must be submitted on the official HATCHET entry blank.

Entries may be placed in contest boxes located in (1) the Student Union lobby, (2) the HATCHET newsstand in Monroe Hall, and (3) the HATCHET newsstand in the Hall of Government.

Each entrant should circle his choices of winners in the ten games selected from Southern and Atlantic Coast Conference tilts, area and representative national contests. If the entrant feels the game will end in a tie, he should check the appropriate blank.

Each entrant should pick the score of the George Washington game, noting it in the appropriate blanks at the top of the contest sheet. The winner or winners will be judged on the most correct games and the closeness of the spread of points to the actual spread in the G. W. game. (In cases of ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded.)

All entries for this contest must be in the contest boxes by Friday at 5:00 p.m., Oct. 11.

The winning prize will be a ticket for the Homecoming Ball, November 2. Second prize will be one carton of Marlboro cigarettes.

Navy, Keydets Win Contests

• COLONIAL GRIDDETS FACE two more military schools this season in VMI and Navy.

The Keydets continued along the unbeaten trail last week with another win, this time a 14-13 contest with William and Mary. Quarterback Duke Johnson led his team 81 yards on the field for one score, and then flipped a 10-yard scoring pass for the second. The only blemish on the Keydets' record, running a first place Southern Conference tie with the Citadel, is a 21-21 draw with Holy Cross several weeks ago.

The Middies continued to show their gridiron might as they beat a stubborn Georgia team Saturday, 27-14. The midshipmen piled up a 21-0 halftime lead, but Georgia rebounded with two TDs in the second half to make it a real contest. But, with only nine minutes of play remaining in the game, Navy marched 63 yards in six plays with Ned Oldham carrying the final 34 for the score.

Navy piled up 198 yards rushing and 140 yards by the air route with quarterbacks Tom Forrestal and Pat Flood completing on 11 of 20 attempts.

Boston U. G. W.'s final opponent this season, rebounded from a lopsided defeat at the hands of West Virginia one week ago to push past Bucknell 28-0. The Richmond Spiders fell before the Citadel, over the weekend, 28-0.

HATCHET Selects Sommer As 'Star'

• MIKE SOMMER, SENSATIONAL Buff halfback, treated the crowd attending the West Virginia game to a scintillating 71-yard touchdown run.

On the first play following a Mountaineer score, Sommer went off his right guard, outdistanced the secondary, and went over for the score.

Besides displaying his scoring prowess, Sommer was terrific in pass defense and tackling. Since half of the tackles made against West Virginia were year when he went scoreless. Noted for his long runs, Sommer ran 68 yards for a touchdown against the Air Force Academy a week ago at Griffith Stadium.

MIKE SOMMER

in the backfield, Sommer was kept busy guarding pass defenders and watching out for the run.

Sommer has scored six times this season; a far cry from last

Hatchet Sports

Sommer Scampers 71 Yards To Score

Colonial Five Shaping Up

• THE COLONIAL BASKETBALL team began practice sessions October 15 in preparation for the coming season.

Coach Bill Reinhart, hoping to rebound from the worst record he posted at G. W., 3-21 last year, has a number of veterans returning.

The entire team is composed of sophomores and juniors. According to Coach Reinhart, the team should greatly improve over last year's record, but next year should be the season for G. W. to emerge as a power.

There are 11 men out for the varsity. At center, the Buff will call on Gene Guarilla (6-6). Guarilla led the team last year with a 17.0 average.

Picked as a Southern Conference star, Guarilla played in the college all-star game last year.

Backing Guarilla up will be Jerry Cooper (6-5). Cooper hits well from the outside and is expected to play a lot this year, if he doesn't crack the starting five.

Center Candidate

Wes Wheeler, who didn't play last year, is another candidate for center.

The team is strong at the guard position. Four men will try to gain starting position: Bill Telasky, Howie Bash, Bucky McDonald and Babe Marshall.

Telasky can be compared to Mike Sommers. Both men were stars in their freshman year at G. W. Their sophomore year was a bust statistically-wise. Sommer has regained his old form this year. If Telasky develops, he'll be the sparkplug of the team.

More Speed

Howie Bash, up from the freshman team, adds more speed to the team. Bash drives well and can hit from the outside.

Bucky McDonald, last year's starting forward, is the third candidate. McDonald has a dead set from the outside, but seemed to find trouble in driving last year.

Babe Marshall starred for District Teacher's College last year with a 30.0 average. Marshall was one of McKinly Tech's "Fabulous Five," who went through three years undefeated.

Problem at Forward

The forward position should prove to be a problem. Jim Walters (6-5), Sam Knisley (6-5), Al Kunze (6-4), and John Paluck will try out.

Walters didn't play last year. Knisley was used intermittently on the varsity, but never materialized. Kunze and Paluck played freshman ball.

Fast Team

The squad this year seems to be big and fast. Guarilla and Cooper should provide the rebounding and inside work, while the rest of the team should provide the speed.

Telasky, Bash, and Marshall like to run with the ball. All are excellent ballhandlers.

Dee Pletsch Gets Hazelton Award

• THE HAZELTON LABORATORIES scholarship, a new scholarship at the University, has been awarded to Miss Dee Ann Pletsch, a graduate of McLean High School in Fairfax County, Virginia.

The scholarship was made available this year by Dr. L. W. Hazelton and will run for the fall and spring semesters.

Eugene and Agnes E. Meyer scholarships have been awarded to Miss Sheila Footer, Peter Daniel Minich, Paul E. R. Norquist, Jr., and John Daniel O'Neale.

• Dick Longfellow (11) romps around his own right end in the fourth quarter to set up West Virginia's fourth touchdown. Tackle Ed Rutsch (77) is chasing him.

SAE, Delts, Moonlighters Triumph As Expected

• THE SECOND WEEK of intramurals saw no significant upsets. Delta Tau Delta (a), Phi Alpha (a), Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Pi Kappa Alpha, and the Moonlighters each won their game, as expected.

In League A, the Delta Tau Delta (a) team put down a hard charging Alpha Epsilon Pi (a) team to win, 13-0. Alpha Epsilon Pi surprised the Delta Tau Delta team with their strong defense. In the first half Alpha Epsilon Pi held the Delts scoreless and were trailing in first downs, 3-2.

In the second half Delta Tau Delta ripped through the Alpha Epsilon Pi defense to score two touchdowns.

J. Q. Adams Dorm squeaked past Tau Kappa Epsilon five first downs to three in a defensive game.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon defeated the Engineering School 7-0.

Sigma Chi Upset

In league C, Alpha Epsilon Pi (b) came from behind to beat Sigma Chi 18-14 in a bruising battle. In the first half Sigma Chi scored two touchdowns, and looked like they'd run away with the game.

Alpha Epsilon Pi stiffened their defense in the second half and went on to win on passes. Earl Landau threw one touchdown pass for Alpha Epsilon Pi, and Steve Sandler threw two to give AEPI an 18-14 edge.

Sigma Chi said that it will protest the game as a result of an offensive interference penalty which it thought should have been called on the winning AEP touchdown with less than a minute to play. In the Sigs' opinion, this was the same kind of obvious infraction that everyone but the referee saw in the New York Giants-Washington Redskins game a week ago. That play also led to a score.

Also in league C, the powerful Moonlighters defeated Delta Theta Phi 7-0 for their second win; the Med School frosh team rolled over Kappa Sigma, 19-0.

League B results: Med sophs 26, Theta Tau 0; Pi Kappa Alpha (b) 7, Sigma Phi Epsilon 0; Phi Alpha (a) won by forfeit from Delta Tau Delta (b).

Sigma Nu Wins

In league D Brownie Greene passed Sigma Nu to a 13-0 victory over Phi Sigma Kappa. Sigma Nu scored first in the second period on a five yard pass from Greene to Herb Fahy. Greene passed to Larry Chloupek for the extra point.

Sigma Nu scored again in the third quarter on a twenty yard pass from Greene to Nick Smart.

Uegal Stars

Art Uegal sparked the Phi Alpha (b) team to a 13-0 victory over Acacia. Uegal ran eight yards for Phi Alpha's first tally and passed 20 yards to George Orlove for Phi Alpha's final TD.

Phi Alpha (b) dominated the game thoroughly. They scored two touchdowns that were called back and didn't allow Acacia one first down.

Pi Kappa Alpha (a) whipped Tau Epsilon Pi 21-6. The Pikes scored in every quarter to outclass the Teps.

Mural predictions. . . . League A is going to be a mystery until the last game of the season when Delta Tau Delta (a) meets SAE. The Delts are probably the more powerful of the two because of their edge in the air. Neither team should get much trouble from the rest of the league.

League B could be a surprise. Phi Alpha (a) will probably dominate the league, but a dark horse in the league is the Med Sophs. The payoff will come at the end of the year when these two teams meet.

League C should be the Moonlighters. There is no competition in the rest of the league that could give them any trouble. AEPI (b) has a chance, but it's too slim to take seriously.

Pi Kappa Alpha (a), Phi Sig, and Phi Alpha (b) dominate league D. Only Pike is undefeated among the three, but Pike still has to meet Phi Sig and Sigma Nu. Sigma Nu won its first two games, but doesn't seem to have the talent to win the league title.

This league should be decided next week when PIKA meets Phi Alpha (b).

• THE COLONIALS, HURTING for a quarterback, will meet VMI, the Southern Conference leader, Saturday at Lexington, Virginia.

After being smothered by a strong West Virginia team, last Friday night, 34-14, the Buff will be pointing to the Keydet game to even up their 2-3 record.

The game was only in doubt in the early moments of the first quarter. Ray Peterson, a Washington area boy, broke off right tackle for the Mountaineers, cut for the sidelines and was in the clear.

VMI Seeks Fifth Win

• GEORGE WASHINGTON INVADES Lexington, Virginia, Saturday to take on the most improved team in the conference.

The Keydets have powered their way through half of their schedule without losing a game. They tied favored Holy Cross, 21-21, and are tied with the Citadel for the Southern Conference lead.

VMI has beaten Tampa, Richmond, Davidson and William and Mary. Led by All-Southern Conference fullback Sam Woolwine, the Keydets meet the tougher part of their schedule when they meet VPI and Virginia.

Woolwine has posted a 7 plus average in his first five games. He's the workhorse of the Keydet attack. In last week's 14-13 win over William and Mary, Woolwine scored one TD and kicked both extra points.

Kicking Average

Bobby Jordan, VMI halfback, is sporting a 5.5 plus rushing average. Jordan does the booting for the Keydets and is currently kicking better than 40 yards per try.

Duke Johnston quarterbacked the VMI squad. Johnston, one of the top ball handlers in the Southern Conference, passed for VMI's other touchdown against William and Mary Saturday.

Backing Johnston up at the signal-calling post is Billy Ross. Ross completed eight out of 11 pass attempts against Richmond and is a good faker.

21 Lettermen

Coach John McKenna has 21 lettermen returning from last year's squad, made up of 17 sophomores and 22 juniors.

Last year, VMI came to Griffith Stadium and was rolled over, 40-14. This year the tables are turned; VMI's the power and the Colonials are weak.

Depth is the keynote of the Keydet line. Bob Rader, Don Basham, Jim McFalk, George O'Neill and Bob Kale, all lettermen, provide lots of punch at tackle.

Tackles

The right guard position is held down by Lou Farmer. Farmer was not only All-Southern Conference last year, but he also was an All-American.

Mike Ruffin, Ron Swirk and Dave Martin, are senior guards and adequately complete the guard position.

Jerry Borst and Benny Day gave the Keydets two experienced centers.

Keydet Ends

The ends are headed by senior Nick Evanusch and junior Carl Kasko. The flanks are the only positions definitely sewed up.

Both lines seem to be equal. G. W. lacks in depth, but they outweigh the Keydets.

The VMI squad holds a big advantage in the backfield. Johnston, Woolwine, and Jordan are all top-notch ball carriers. Backing Johnston up is Ross who can spark the Keydets.

G. W. Quarterbacks

Jack Henzes, G. W. quarterback, had a jammed thumb last Friday night. Henzes couldn't get the team rolling. Backing up Henzes is Hino, who doesn't appear ready, yet.

Bob Lipman
